THE TRANSLATOR TO THE READER.

THIS Book will sufficiently recommend it self; therefore I need not say any thing in Praise of it, either on Account of the useful Subject that it treats of, or the excellent Method and familiar Way in which our Author has handled it; only I thought proper to observe to the Reader, that the Numbers in the Margin express so many Propositions, which are referred to, as you go forward in the Book, to avoid Repeitions and Tautology. If what is printed in Italic Characters be read by it self, it will appear to be a Compendium of the whole whole Book ; or the Doctrinal Part of it, without the Experiments and Demonstrations. I have endeavoured to answer this End in my English Translation, where you will find, that whatever is in Italic Characters, makes up the Sense of the rest of the Book ; which also readily makes Sense by it self, though taken from Places where it seems irregularly dispersed.

The first Edition of this Translation had some Errors of the Press, and Faults in the Plates, which were occasioned by the Haste in which it was printed off, to prevent the Injury that must have been done to Dr. 's Gravesande, by a Translation that some Booksellers endeavoured to get out before mine ; which was so ill done, that no body that had read the Latin Book would be able to know it again in their English.

I have, therefore, in this Fifth Edition, carefully review'd and corrected every Error, both in the Book and Plates.
